

The Centre for Information Modeling - Austrian Centre for Digital Humanities at the University of Graz (Austria) is offering a position for an

Early Stage Researcher

“Paleography and Digital Scholarly Editions”

(40 hours/week; fixed-term employment for the period of 3 years, starting 1 April 2014)

Job Specifications

- The research fellow will do supervised research on “Paleography and Digital Scholarly Editions” in the Marie Curie Initial Training Network “Dixit”.
- She/He will evaluate the role of digital facsimiles and text/image-linkage for modeling transcription methodologies in the context of digital scholarly editions.
- She/he will study the potential of these methodologies for analysis in paleographical and codicological research and do exemplary paleographical research with selected digital scholarly editions.

Professional Qualifications

- Relevant university degree (Master-level), preferably in the Humanities.
- Prior experience with scholarly editing / paleography OR knowledge of data modeling / annotation methods and practices (e.g. TEI)
- Ability to present the subject in English (spoken and written).
- High level of commitment and motivation for scientific work and international collaboration.

Formal Requirements

This position is funded through the Digital Scholarly Editions Initial Training Network (Dixit). To download the mandatory Application Form, visit <http://dixit.uni-koeln.de/fellows.html> .

Note that applicants must

- ... be in the first four years of their research careers and not yet have a doctoral degree.
- ... not have resided or carried out their main activity (work, studies, etc.) in the country of their host organization (i.e. Austria) for more than 12 months in the 3 years immediately prior to the reference date.
- ... be willing to spend 8-12 months of their tenure at our partner institution, the Department for Digital Humanities at King’s College London (UK).

Application Deadline: 10 December, 2013

Send your application, including a letter of intent and CV, by mail or e-mail to: zim@uni-graz.at

Zentrum für Informationsmodellierung
Austrian Centre for Digital Humanities
University of Graz
Merangasse 70, A-8010 Graz

The completed Application Form must be sent separately to: dixit-info@uni-koeln.de

For further information see <http://dixit.uni-koeln.de/fellows.html> or contact the Centre at zim@uni-graz.at or +43 316 380 2292.