Communicative Situations	Vocabulary	Grammar
This lecture allows for an intensive study of topics from different areas of life while taking into account the four skills of language learning (listening, talking, reading and writing). Since personal approach and sensual perception are important for the development and consolidation of new language skills, the topics should be partially chosen by the students themselves. The examination of the topics is based on newspaper articles and texts of all kinds; video and audio materials are used, too. In this context, students organize (text) material autonomously and give a short presentation on a chosen topic in the classroom. The topics will be further examined in pair and/or group exercises.	Vocabulary relevant to the examined topics	Selected grammar units for level C1
