

María Kristín Gylfadóttir European Commission, DG Education and Culture

María Kristín Gylfadóttir is currently a policy officer in Higher Education and the Erasmus programme in the European Commission's Directorate-General for Education and Culture. In particular she is in charge of the social dimension of Higher Education, EQF related matters and mobility policy, and is also the Erasmus Programme desk officer for six countries. She studied international relations and communications at Auburn University (USA), holds an MA in German and European studies from Georgetown University (USA) and an MBA degree from the University of Iceland. Prior to joining the European Commission as a National Expert, Mrs. Gylfadottir worked for the Ministry of Education, Culture and Science in Iceland on EU education programmes and before as a Programme Manager for the Leonardo da Vinci Programme in Iceland. She has also managed an international MBA programme and taught European politics at Reykjavik University, and served as a Cultural Counsellor at the Embassy of Iceland in Washington D.C.

María Kristín Gylfadóttir is active in her local community, has served as a Councillor in the municipality of Hafnarfjörður and been the President of The Icelandic Parent Association.