

This conference aims to address the emergence of the working class, labor struggles, and socialism in the Balkans. The starting point of this meeting is that the specific dynamics of the capitalist mode of production, inter-imperial struggles for influence, and competing nationalist movements within a highly ethno-religiously divided demographic context created similar and comparable conditions for the formation of working classes and the struggles for socialism in the so-called Balkans.

The Balkan Socialist Federation initiative after the 1908 Revolution in the Ottoman Empire and the Balkan Communist Federation in the 1920s are important reflections of the common history of leftist movements in this region.

The aim of the conference is to bring together scholars who, beginning with the last quarter of the nineteenth century and within this broader context, seek to explore labor struggles and organizations, the formation of the socialist movement across different localities, and the place of socialism in relation to other political and ideological currents, most notably nationalism.

ORGANIZERS

Centre for Southeast European Studies
Zentrum für Südosteuropastudien

Center for Southeast
European Studies,
University of Graz

Istos Publishing House

Social History Research
Foundation of Turkey
(TÜSTAV)

United Metal Workers' Union

INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE

SOCIALISM and LABOR STRUGGLES in the BALKANS

The Age of Empires and the Interwar Period
(1871 – 1939)

15 - 16 November 2025
Türkan Saylan Cultural Center
Izmir, Turkey

DAY 1 – 15 NOVEMBER 2025, SATURDAY

10:00 – 10:30: Opening Remarks

Florian Bieber (University of Graz)

Özkan Atar (United Metal Workers' Union)

10:30 – 12:00: Panel I

Peasant Question – Socialism in the Countryside

Chair: Serkan Öngel

(United Metal Workers' Union & TÜSTAV)

Pelin Tıǧlay (Panteion University)

A Rural Socialism: The Macedo-Bulgarian Activists and the Peasant Question in the Late Ottoman Empire

Anna Mandru (University of Birmingham)

The Limits of Compromise: Romanian Socialism and the Peasant Question in the Long 19th Century

Alp Yücel Kaya (Ege University & TÜSTAV)

Agrarian Question and Revolutionary Movements in the Late 19th and Early 20th Century Ottoman Empire

12:00 – 13:00: Lunch Break

13:00 – 14:30: Panel II

Labor Movement, Women, and Socialism

Chair: Derya Özkaya (University of Graz & TÜSTAV)

Leda Papastefanaki (University of Ioannina)

Women's Labor Struggles and Socialism in Greece, 1871–1940

Stefo Benlisoy (Istanbul Technical University)

Evolution of a Labor Organization in the Ottoman Capital from Revolutionary Syndicalism to Bolshevism, 1909–1922

Sezgin Boynik (Rab-Rab Press, Helsinki) & Tevfik Rada

(Central European University)

The Different States of the Socialist Fecri: The Unknown History of the Labor Movement in Macedonia, 1909–1922

14:30 – 15:00: Coffee Break

15:00 – 16:30: Keynote Lecture

Maria Todorova (University of Illinois Urbana-Champaign)

Socialisms and Their Generations

DAY 2 – 16 NOVEMBER 2025, SUNDAY

12:00 – 14:00: Panel III

Komintern and the Making of Communist Movement

Chair: Alp Yücel Kaya (Ege University & TÜSTAV)

Burak Sayım (University of Basel)

Overseas Communism: Thessaloniki, Odessa, and the Comintern's Southern Bureau

Florian Bieber (University of Graz)

Strong in Unexpected Places: The Paradox of Communist Party Strength in Interwar Yugoslavia

Nikos Christofis (University of Thessaly)

The Emergence and Evolution of the Communist Party of Cyprus, 1926–1940

Aytek Soner Alban

(Middle East Technical University & British Institute at Ankara)

The “Prosfygokommounistis” Phenomenon: Refugee Radicalization in Interwar Greece

14:00 – 14:30: Coffee Break

14:30 – 15:30: Panel IV

Ideology, Revolution, and the National Question

Chair: Stefo Benlisoy

(Istanbul Technical University & Istos Publishing)

Stefan Gužvica (Higher School of Economics, St. Petersburg)

Leninism before Lenin? Understanding the Revolutionary Conjuncture on the Periphery

Kostas Paloukis (Independent Researcher)

Avraam Benaroya: “I Was Born in Three Cities” – A Balkan Life Across Borders

15:30 – 16:00: Closing Remarks

Erol Ülker (Işık University & TÜSTAV)

Reflections on the History of the Left in the Context of the Balkans and Mete Tunçay's Legacy

16:00 – 17:00: Forum

History of Socialism and the Future of Balkan Studies