

Welcome to the Double Degree in Empirical Economics!

EMPIRICAL ECONOMICS

The Double Degree Programme Empirical Economics is taught entirely in English. It focuses on empirical economics and provides students with a solid theoretical foundation and the ability to prepare economic policy recommendations through empirical work.

Degree: Master of Science in Economics - MSc (Econ.)*

Programme Duration: 4 semesters, 120 ECTS

Language of Instruction: English

Starting Date: September and February

Mode of Attendance: Full-time

*Double degree between the University of Graz and the University of Udine.

Participating Universities

- University of Graz, Austria
- University of Udine, Italy

Students choose one of these universities as their entrance university where they start and finish the programme. Students complete their mandatory mobility semester at the participating partner university.

STUDENTS OF THIS MASTER'S PROGRAMME CAN EXTEND THEIR KNOWLEDGE OF DEVELOPMENT ECONOMICS, APPLIED ENVIRONMENTAL AND INDUSTRIAL ECONOMICS, OR PUBLIC ECONOMICS AND ECONOMIC POLICY.

Programme Outline (Specialisation fields)

Development Economics

You will explore models from development economics such as "big push" theories and the role of the state in development.

Applied Environmental Economics

You will explore advanced methods and models of environmental and resource economics.

Industrial Economics

You will explore static models of imperfect competition in price and quantity determination and models of price discrimination.

What is a Double Degree Programme?

- A programme developed and offered jointly by several higher education institutions.
- It offers students to specialise in complementary focus areas at the participating universities.
- Students profit from a wide range of specialisation options and from a unique intercultural experience.
- A double degree is one academic degree awarded by both universities.

Students of this Double Degree Programme must earn at least 60 ECTS at their entrance university. At least 30 ECTS must be completed at the partner university.

Contact Information:

<https://www.jointdegree.eu/en>

jointdegrees@uni-graz.at