

Global Window

The supplementary subject or restricted elective course “Global Window” promotes knowledge and skills in internationalisation and (inter)cultural competence. Based on a range of topics, such as mobility, multilingualism, identity, migration, flight and climate change, the course discusses interdependencies and addresses concepts of diversity, trans- and interculturality, digitalisation and internationalisation. In addition to the scientific analysis of exchange from the international to the local level, personal experiences are reflected.

Educational objectives

In this course, students will learn about academic approaches to internationalisation and (inter)cultural competence between the conflicting poles of globalisation and its impact on local conditions, and they will become aware of the importance and the effects of increasing plurality in all areas of life in historical, linguistic and cultural terms.
