No Employment without Enrollment

If students want to pursue a PhD position at the Faculty of Natural Sciences, they must also enroll in the doctoral program in order to be able to write a doctoral thesis.

Our office relies on you to inform us about the PhD students who receive employment at our faculty. Furthermore, we kindly ask you to direct these people to our homepage.

Please note that the enrollment for the doctoral program can involve a significant administrative effort. Additionally, international students may need to submit extra original documents, possibly certified. Consequently, this may lead to longer waiting times.

The earliest possible announcement of PhD students and the prompt application in the admission tool is accordingly necessary.
