

BARI-BERN-BOCHUM-GRAZ SUMMER SCHOOL

“Urgent Normative Challenges – Alternative Approaches: Climate Crisis, Migration, Populism, and Racism”, 26th- 30th April 2025

CALL FOR APPLICATIONS

The Summer School is now well established as a means to bring together students and faculty from the MA PELP and similar programs at the Universities Bari, Bern, Bochum. Five intensive days around topics on current issues in Political Philosophy and Ethics await you.

Deadline for applications: 12th February 2025 Send application to alexander.sedlack@uni-graz.at.

Language: English

Credit Points: Up to 6 ECTS taking part at the Summer School can be credited as a course for students from the University of Graz and can be accredited to the following modules of the PELP Curriculum: 1.3, 5.1, 5.2 or 7.1.

Applicants: PELP students of the University of Graz (if you are not a PELP student and want to apply, please send a letter of motivation in addition to CV and transcript of records)

Expected Workload: Active Participation, preparation of discussions, term paper

Stipend: The costs for accommodation will be covered by the host institution (University of Bochum). We are currently looking into possibilities to fund also the travel costs and meals on site. We will inform applicants about the developments. Travel to Bochum is possible per train and takes around one day 7:00 AM to 19:00 PM.

Application documents:

- Transcript of Records (of all your studies at universities)
- CV
- Letter of motivation if you are not a MA PELP student

We are looking forward to receiving your application!