Table of Contents

Acknowledgments vii

Stefan L. Brandt and Astrid M. Fellner
Introduction: Making the Body, Making America 1

The Politics of the Body and the Making of America

Timothy K. Conley
Foundling Father: Franklin’s Revolutionary Rhetoric and the Emergence of Republican Motherhood 11

Astrid M. Fellner
Making Columbia: The Politics of the Body in Revolutionary America 25

Gabriele Pisarz-Ramírez
Visions of Columbus: Barlow, Freneau, and the Hemisphere 41

The Body and Discourses of Medicine and Sexuality

Thomas Clark
“... to convert men into republican machines”: Rush, Foucault, and the Making of Virtuous Bodies 61

Jörg Thomas Richter
Hereditary Sin and the Post-Revolutionary Phallacy: An Essay on Royall Tyler’s The Origin of Evil (1793) 81

Embodiment and National Self-Fashioning

Zoe Detsi-Diamanti
Ethnicity and the Republican National Body: Americanizing ‘Paddy’ in Early American Plays, 1789-1825 99

Christian Quendler
Bodies of Letters: National, Literary, and Gender Identities in Epistolary Fiction of the Early Republic 117

Stefan L. Brandt
Exploring the “Heart of the Wilderness”: Cultural Self-Fashioning and the Aesthetics of the Body in Charles Brockden Brown’s Edgar Huntly, or, Memoirs of a Sleep-Walker 133

Contributors and Editors 153