

The Institute of Cultural Anthropology and European Ethnology of the University of Graz stands for emergent research and research-oriented teaching on past and present cultures of the everyday, led by professional curiosity and critical attention for societal processes of transformation. Current research themes are in four focus areas:

- Political anthropology, governmentality studies
Urban anthropology, mobile culture studies and migration, governmentality and security, borders/boundaries and liminality, cultural studies in architecture, digitalisation, sexuality and corporeality, subjectivation research.
- Cultures of the everyday
Material culture, technique in everyday life, work, historicity of everyday culture, religiosity, memory, images and visuality.
- Knowledge and science
History of our discipline, the history of knowledge, sensual and aesthetic anthropology.
- Methods of cultural anthropology and European ethnology
Ethnographic methodology, cultural analysis, visual anthropology, museology, historical anthropology, narrative research, cultural semiotics, ethno-psychoanalysis, digital ethnography.

???

📍 Adresse, 8010 Graz, Österreich

☎ ++43/316/380-???

☎ ++43/316/380-69-???

✉ mail@uni-graz.at

🌐 <http://www.uni-graz.at/?????>