Games as Serious Visualisation Tools For Digital Humanities, Cultural Heritage and Immersive Literacy

Abstract

Are there social and cultural issues raised by virtual, mixed and augmented reality technologies of particular interest to Digital Humanities researchers? I will also discuss related emerging and merging themes in serious game research and a relatively new concept, immersive literacy.

Erik Champion is an Emeritus Professor at Curtin University, an Honorary Research Professor at the Australian National University, and Honorary Research Fellow at the University of Western Australia. He has written on digital heritage, digital humanities infrastructure, and serious games.
