

With its 4,300 employees and 32,500 students, the University of Graz provides an exciting and varied work environment. Given our expertise in research and teaching, we are a central institution in Styria.

The Institute of Moral Theology at the Faculty of Catholic Theology is seeking to appoint a

Professor (f/m) of Health Care Ethics

(40 hours per week; fixed-term employment for 5 years pursuant to §99 (1) UG (Austrian Universities Act); expected starting date October 1st 2018 )

The Faculty of Catholic Theology has focused on Health Care Ethics for a considerable time. The new endowed professorship which is established in cooperation with the Medical University Graz and the University of Applied Sciences Joanneum ought to take up the challenges in Health Care on a legal, economic, intercultural and interreligious level and to reflect and monitor them from the perspective of academic ethics, thereby facing up to institutions of practical orientation on site.

We expect interdisciplinary cooperation with other institutions of research and teaching (especially with the Medical University Graz and the University of Applied Sciences Joanneum), interconnection of theory and practice in research, ongoing development in the range of courses, and commitment to staff training of Health Care professionals. Courses should be developed for students of all three cooperating institutions. For clinical studies, contribution to the development of ethical aspects is expected.

The professorship will contribute to the university's research core areas. Within the faculty profile "Theology in Contemporary Contexts" it is assigned to the area of "ethics".

Requirements for employment

- Completion of an appropriate university degree at a university in Austria or abroad and a doctoral degree or PhD respectively - in sociology, medicine, healthcare studies, law, philosophy or theology are deemed appropriate
- Habilitation or equivalent qualification in the field of Health Care Ethics
- Excellent scientific qualification in research and teaching for the relevant subject (relative to academic age)
- Publications and teaching experience with regard to topics in Health Care Ethics
- Experience in attracting third-party funds
- Subject-related international experience and networking
- Ability to work in a team and flexibility
- Gender mainstreaming competence

The candidate is expected to demonstrate his/her educational and didactic skills as well as the willingness to cooperate across disciplines and institutions.

Classification

Salary scheme of the Universitäten-KV (University Collective Agreement): A1

Minimum salary

The minimum salary according to the classification scheme of the collective agreement is EUR 70.071,40 gross per year (14 monthly salaries). Salary subject to negotiation.

Application deadline: April 20th 2018

Reference number: VV/7/99 ex 2017/18

The University of Graz is striving to increase the number of women, particularly in executive positions, and thus explicitly encourages qualified women to apply. In case of equal qualifications, women will receive priority consideration.

If you are interested, please submit your application documents in accordance with the general application guidelines (which can be found at <http://jobs.uni-graz.at/en/Berufungsverfahren>) within the deadline. Your application documents should include the reference number of the position and be sent by email to:

bewerbung.professur@uni-graz.at