

Growing up in Science

Taking a peek behind their CV

“Science, is made up of mistakes, but they are mistakes which it is useful to make, because they lead little by little to the truth”
 - Jules Verne

The official CVs of scientists only show their successes. “Growing up in Science – Graz” takes you on a journey to the behind-the-scenes stories of these CVs.

Join us for this event and hear about the challenges, failures and coincidences that are intrinsic to science and that shaped the path of science personalities.

8th October 2019, 17:00 h

Uni Graz, SZ 15.22, Universitätsstraße 15, Section G, 2nd floor

Annarita Di Lorenzo

Associate Professor of Pathology and Laboratory Medicine at Weill Cornell Medicine, New York. After receiving her PhD in Italy and completing her postdoc at the Yale Medical School, she established her own laboratory where she studies the role of sphingolipid signaling in cardiovascular function and disease.
