

Alumni statements about the Programme

Kristýna Jaklová, MSc

Consultant for strategic innovations at Verwegener & Trefflich

“Thinking back of my masters, several keywords come to my mind: mind opening, empowering and meaningful. Moving to different countries, encountering inspiring people from all around the world and considering sustainability from a broader perspective, was indeed a real asset. The mobility track at University of Graz offered some great hands-on experiences and opened up a whole new world to me – the world of sustainable entrepreneurship, which became my main focus for my master thesis and my career later on. Last but not least, this master is very generic, leaving enough space for defining your own path and focus. This enables educating various kinds of sustainability experts active in different fields. I believe that spreading the idea of sustainability into many disciplines is key to changing the course of events.”

Entrance University: Leipzig University (graduated 2017)

Mobility Track: Sustainable Business Management, University of Graz
