XIV. TEACHING EXPERIENCE

Matthias Klatt teaches Legal Philosophy, Legal Theory, and International Constitutional Law. He also holds the venia legendi in Public Law, Public International Law and European Law.

His lectures in the Law diploma programme in Graz include introductory courses in the fields of Legal Ethics and Legal Politics as well as Legal Theory and Legal Reasoning. Part of his further teaching activities are seminars in the second and third stages of the diploma programme as well as courses in the interdisciplinary master's programme PELP (Political, Economic and Legal Philosophy).

Matthias Klatt frequently teaches abroad, including e.g. lectures at the Tarello Institute for Legal Philosophy in Genoa (2017-).

During his professional career in Germany Matthias Klatt acquired teaching experience in Legal Reasoning and Legal Sociology (Berlin, 2012-2014) as well as in Legal Philosophy and Legal Sociology (Hamburg, 2012-2014). Additionally, he held lectures in German Constitutional Law (Law of the Federal and State Administration for six semester, 2008-2015 and Fundamental Rights for three semesters, 2013-2015) in the cities of Hamburg, Berlin and Osnabrück. Further teaching in the field of German Commercial Administrative Law was conducted for a period of four semester (Hamburg, 2008-2012).

Matthias Klatt also taught preparation courses for the state exam in the field of Lower Saxony Local and Transportation Law, Public Law as well as in the subject matter of Fundamental Rights (Osnabrück, 2014-2015). Furthermore, he prepared and held a total of twelve preparation tests for the state exam (Hamburg, Berlin and Osnabrück, 2008-2015) and three oral state exam simulation tests (Hamburg and Berlin, 2010-2013). His teaching activities during his post graduate education include inter alia English courses in Fundamental Rights Protection in the EU at the Europe College in Hamburg (for five semesters, 2009-2014) and Theory of Legal Argumentation at the European Academy of Legal Theory in Brussels (for two semesters, 2003-2006).
