

Hybrid lecture and workshop series organized and hosted by the TEFL team
Department of English and American Studies

New Approaches to English Foreign Language Education (NAEFLed) Global Education

Webinar and lecture series

Dr. Carolyn Blume (Dortmund):

Teaching English in a Global World, One Byte at a Time

May 14, 2024 - 4-6pm (online and in-person)

Dr. Caro Blume is assistant professor for digitally-mediated teaching and learning at the Dortmunder Competence Center for Teacher Education and Educational Research (DoKoLL) of the TU Dortmund University, and a member by courtesy of the Faculty of Cultural Studies. Her research and development activities focus on the professionalization of English teachers for a post-digital, transcultural world. To do this, she draws on her almost twenty years of teaching and school leadership experiences in the US and Germany. In 2022, Dr. Blume was awarded the IDEA (Inclusion, Diversity, Education Award) of the TU Dortmund

Summer term 2024, 4-6 pm – Room L3.204 – Zoom Meeting ID: 615 2955 3827 – Passcode: 324756

Open to anyone interested, no registration necessary. Lectures and workshops will be held in English.
For further questions, please contact Katharina v. Elbwart: katharina.elbwart@upb.de

