

Zhenis Kembayev is a Professor of Law, School of Law, KIMEP University in Almaty, Kazakhstan. His areas of expertise include Public International Law, Law of the European Union, Constitutional Law of the Republic of Kazakhstan, Theory and History of Law. He was a Fulbright scholar at the Southwestern University School of Law (Los Angeles, USA) in 2003/2004 and an Alexander von Humboldt fellow at the Max Planck Institute for Comparative Public Law and International Law (Heidelberg, Germany) in 2007/2008. He is also a recipient of a large number of other Kazakhstani and international scientific awards and scholarships. Professor Kembayev is the author of several books and numerous articles on public international law, international trade law, law of the European Union, history of European integration and constitutional law of Kazakhstan. He advised both governmental and non-governmental agencies on various public law issues and has presented papers at scores of legal conferences and public hearings around the world.