

Research projects Gehrke

(1) Research on endogenous growth, innovation and technological change

(i) The theory of induced technical change: from Ricardo to Acemoglu

(ii) Charasoff's contribution to the analysis of the choice of technique problem

(Both research projects also contribute to the field "The problem of Climate change and other environmental problems")

(2) Research in the history of economic thought

(i) Contributions to the edition project „The Unpublished Papers and Correspondence of Piero Sraffa”: Material relating Sraffa's edition of the Works and Correspondence of David Ricardo; Sraffa's correspondence relating to Production of Commodities by Means of Commodities

(ii) Several papers on themes relating to Ricardo's economics and its reception