

OUTREACH BEYOND THE UNIVERSITIES

Rukiye Demir Salhiya, graduate of Community Mental Health at IUG:

This programme gives women a chance to take action to help women in society.

Over the 3 years, the project established various strategic contacts:

By the Islamic University of Gaza:

The Women's Studies Centre (WSC) at the Islamic University Gaza (IUG), soon founded in the first year of the SHE-GE project, has organized a range of activities that were highly appreciated:

- Scientific Days (on the occasion of International Women's Day, "The multiple roles of Palestinian women's: Burdens & Accomplishment", "Palestinian Family: Challenges and Resilience" (attended by faculty and students of IUG, higher education institutions)
- Consultancy for the Palestinian Office of United Nations Women (UNW)
- International Conference: "Women and Higher Education"
- Trainings for NGOs: "Designing Gender-Based Development Projects"

Internal cooperation: The WSC at IUG cooperates with the Faculties of Psychology, Education, Media & Journalism, the English Language Department, and with the university library.

External cooperation extends to the Women's Ministry and to UN Women, to women's groups in Gaza, NGOs and to several Higher Education Institutions in Palestine (Birzeit University in Ramallah, An-Najah University in Nablus, Al-Quds University in Jerusalem).

By the University of Graz:

- NGO "Frauenservice": Organization of a Public lecture by Prof. Sanaa Aboudagga: "Coping Strategies of Palestinian Women in Gaza", January 2018

Amany Elmgadma, Managerial Project Assistant and Head of International Relations at IUG:

Internet technology is proving its importance in gender issues once again.
